Pre-Reading Look at the picture and predict what the lesson is about. Babar : Assalamo Alykum my dearest friend! Where were you yesterday? We had a terrific cricket match in the stadium. Aslm : Walykum salami I could not come for the match because I took a First aid class yesterday. Babar : Really? What is first aid? What did you learn? Asim : First aid is the help given to a sick or injured person until full medical treatment is available. First aid is about using your commonsense in ways that will keep that person safe without doing harm. · Babar : You mean if a friend has an accident or someone collapses (perhaps from a heart attack) then the first person there will be the first aider or the person who will help the casualties till help arrives. Asim : Yes, my dear friend. Babar : It's a great idea for older children and adults to do a first aid course so that they know what to do to help others. Tell me more, what else did you learn? Asim : A lot of stuff. We were taught to have a first aid kit at home, school and work places. What Are Complex Numbers? understand algebraic properties of complex numbers. recognize real and imaginary parts of different types of complex numbers. know the solution of simultaneous linear equations with complex coefficients. What are complex numbers? A complex number is any number or element of a complex vector space over the real numbers. It is denoted by the Greek letter X. They can be thought of as complex numbers that are too complicated for our human brain to deal with. We can't add, multiply, or subtract them, so they represent things like distances, velocities, accelerations, or any number of things. If you had to write down how the average force of an airplane going 15,000 feet per second would feel in your hand, it might be a complex number, like some kind of inverse relationship between velocity and pressure. On an experimental plane, a bunch of test data would be fed into the cockpit's computers. Conclusion I think the following video is a good way to introduce this topic in an interactive way. It's longer than my comment above, but you may learn a lot. It was obvious to me that I had to learn Maths before High School. I studied it in school in Grade 7, but the questions were made as easy as possible for an 8-year-old, and in hindsight they really were. Not having the opportunity to study Maths at my college level, I had to study Maths in High School. It took me about 3 years to pass the matriculation. At the end of High School, I was pleasantly surprised to find out that I had a very high score for Maths in the National exams. This article is intended for a person who already knows a bit of Maths, but maybe not all of it. I'm assuming you are not a beginner, and in general, I agree.
